

Customer Success Story

Solution Offering: IPAM Base Bundle

Problem:

A large investment management company was struggling to track and manage IP addresses. All IP addresses were captured manually in spreadsheets across multiple data centers, with input from various teams.

After investing in Infoblox's NetMRI solution, close to 50,000 devices and IP addresses were discovered. There was a major discrepancy between the discovered data in NetMRI, and the device data living in spreadsheets. The clear business issue was the reliability of the IP address information being stored, and the manual effort needed to keep this information as up to date and accurate as possible.

Solution:

The solution for the investment company was to implement Infoblox's DDI - IPAM solution and synchronize the discovery data from NetMRI to their IPAM.

This solution provided an automated way of discovering the customer's network as well as a single, reliable database of IP address usage in the customer's on-premise and virtual locations.

Results:

The customer utilized the EmpoweredDeploy - IPAM Base Bundle services to accomplish this goal.

Empowered worked with the customer to architect the solution and complete the service engagement to implement the IPAM solution and synchronize it with NetMRI. This resulted in:

- Accurate, automated discovery of network devices, IP addresses and additional context around those devices,
- IPAM being single source of truth,
- Improved visibility across various teams,
- Employees being able to focus on critical day-day tasks as opposed to manual IP address data entry.

The investment management company used Infoblox's IPAM solution to track and store 50,000 IP addresses and gain better insight into the overall network. This helped offload the engineers to focus time elsewhere, saving both time and money. The Empowered team was the expert on site with the customer and delivered the IPAM implementation.
